

I am writing to protest Sinclair Broadcasting's plan to air an anti-Kerry documentary on their stations.

I believe this is an example of what happens when media companies are allowed to consolidate. When a piece, which is tellingly titled "Stolen Honor" is advertised as a "news event" by Sinclair, the FCC should sit up and take notice. And take action in the form of stricter media ownership rules.

Thank you. Mary E. Niedenfuer